

DAVID DESIGN MOVES PRODUCTION TO ULRICEHAMN

ULRICEHAMN 2021-04-21

David design is moving their production and logistics from Skillingaryd to Ulricehamn to meet the ongoing growth and streamline. They move in with their owners Götesson's in Rönnåsen's industrial area and the daily operations are woven together with Götesson's existing production.

The operation's move to Ulricehamn is planned for April 2021 and the entire existing staff with their valuable skills will follow. Production is currently spread over three premises in Skillingaryd and needs to be centralized to meet the ongoing growth and have the space needed to streamline processes. Götessons expanded its head office and warehouse in 2019 and is now reorganizing their operations to integrate David design the processes in a smooth and smart way.

Now David design inbound and outbound deliveries will be included in the same flow as Götesson's and more time will be available for cutting, sewing and upholstery by David design's knowledgeable employees.

"David design has long sought a good logistics solution when our premises in Skillingaryd have become too small and the move to Ulricehamn means that we get the large capacity increase we need for the future. At the same time, it provides greater flexibility in the group and the development that we must achieve together." - Håkan Nilsson, CEO of David design.

"The move of David design's production unit enables continued growth and continued high level of delivery precision and quality that our customers expect from a premium brand. At the same time, we welcome our employees from Skillingaryd who will not only get new fantastic colleagues but also take part in the long experience and competence that exists at Rönnåsen today." - Emil Johansson, CEO and MD of Götessons.
