A good sound environment is an important aspect for the social sustainability. Concentration and general wellbeing is affected by high noise and sound absorbents are an easy way to prevent this. The ceiling is the first and many times the most important to fix, which is why Gotessons has developed several new solutions. Tiles EcoSUND is a favourite among our news, square sound absorbents made of the unique sound dampening material EcoSUND. They can be combined with our other new pieces In The Grid and Off The Grid, two different types of wire baskets. In The Grid is mounted straight in the ceiling grid while Off The Grid is strung from the ceiling and decorated with plants and lamps. The acoustic solutions Effekt wall/ceiling, Lod, Vertikal, Big Print, Print and 3D are also added to the assortment.

Room-in-a-room is a growing product category with Gotessons due to the growing demand to screen off spaces in open landscapes. News such as Open Hut and The Cabin with a slidable door creates spaces for small meetings or solo work where noise and visual distractions decrease. With houses, sofas, cushions and lighting, the solution is completed with new Pocket Table. A table with a white or black stand and a surface of oak veneer or black MDF. In one end of the table, there is a stylish faux leather pocket for your favourite magazines.

Screening off your work space is one aspect of great importance for both sound and visual environment. Popular A30 Peak Design Booth is introduced as a desk screen booth. A dynamic and stylish desk version for optimal partition from the front and the sides. The desk screen Silent Express is also a new addition in Gotessons' assortment. It is a stocked screen, available in several sizes and colours.

According to the Swedish Work Environment Authority, good lighting is an important factor for a sustainable work environment. Among Gotessons' news there are three new lamps, including Bright LED Lamp that works excellent in the different Hut houses. Being able to regulate the light's angle, strength and warmth are three functions often requested by users and are available on new lamp Funkia. Thirdly, Toolbar Light is presented as a flexible lamp thanks to its bendability. It can be angled and moved after the user's wishes from its place on the screen's rail.

Gotessons continues to spread calm with greenery and presents twelve new artificial plants in their assortment. The newcomers vary between table plants, garlands and bigger plants suitable for standing on the floor. To give the customer even more choices to create the right atmosphere, baskets and an ample are also introduced in this branch. Continuing on the creative yet flexible path, textile dressed plant holder and room divider Plant Divider is added. It is easily moved around to suit the present interior thanks to its lockable wheels.

IQSeat is an exciting new piece of soft seating, designed by Henrik Kjellberg and Jon Lindström from o4i Design Studio, realized and distributed by Gotessons. The backrest can be turned into a table and IQSeat's multifunction with wheels makes it suitable in many different environments.

Smart and table mounted electrical accessories have been available with Gotessons for a long time and therefore it felt natural to add a new surface finish. Power Grommet, Bi-Box and Table Top Slim are examples of products now available in copper.
